

National Association for Plant Breeding

PLANT BREEDING EDUCATOR AWARD

This award recognizes an individual who has demonstrated an extraordinary impact on students, staff, other plant breeders, the scientific community, or the general public through their exceptional skills, innovation, and commitment to plant breeding education. In their career, the recipient has:

- Promoted an understanding of plant breeding concepts and principles as well as an acquisition of knowledge and skills in the learning experience
- Developed and used novel educational materials and methods effectively and imaginatively
- Helped develop personal skills and leadership capabilities among their audience and mentees
- Pursued their own professional development in research, outreach, and service to inform their educational and mentoring activities

Nominations from all sectors (academia, industry, government) and any career stage are encouraged.
