

Assistant Farm Manager/Greenhouse Manager

Select Trees Group is considered by many to be the leader in the production of high-quality sustainable landscape shade trees in the Southern U.S. Since our founding in 1985, it has been the goal of Select Trees to grow trees that landscape professionals consider the best available. At our two farms located near Athens, Georgia, we have developed a system for propagating, growing, and harvesting that addresses the quality of the entire plant; from root structure to head structure, and everything in between. Further, we have committed ourselves to the research and development necessary to evolve the process of tree selection in order to offer the best improved cultivars possible. We have been involved with numerous high profile projects, from the Dallas Cowboys football stadium, to the more than 800 trees recently donated to the University of Georgia.

We have many opportunities for high-quality partners for management positions. We are in a specific search for a full time associate who would be involved with and responsible for greenhouse management, labor management, and quality assurance.

Salary $50,000-$65,000 per year.

Preferred skills include the following:

- Good interpersonal and organizational skills
- Background in agriculture / farming industry
- Fluent in Spanish (not required)

Responsibilities include the following:
